◆ Key Findings

■ Domestic Cosmetics Market in FY2014 Reached 2,330.5 Billion Yen, 100.5% of Size of Previous Fiscal Year

The domestic cosmetic market in FY2014 attained 2,330.5 billion yen, 100.5% of the size of the previous fiscal year, based on the shipment value at brand manufacturers. Sales of the expensive products in the first half of FY2014 was stagnant due to deteriorated consumer mind stemming from consumption tax increase. Restrained purchases were especially conspicuous in local areas and by those in their 30s and 40s, which slowed down the market. However, in the latter half of the fiscal year, flourishing inbound tourism consumption by the foreign tourists backed by wider range of items having being exempted from taxation since October 2014, in addition to recovery of consumer confidence, raised the overall cosmetic market in FY2014 slightly.

■ Face Packs Sold Favorably in Skin Care Category Due to Increasing Bulk Products and Inbound Effect

The domestic cosmetic market size in FY2014 by product category showed that all the categories (i.e., skin care, make-up, hair care, fragrance and men's cosmetics) exceeded the results of the previous fiscal year for two years in a row.

Bulk products of face packs and special care products (including beauty liquid) in the skin care, BB and CC creams in the make-up, oil-combined products and scalp-care products in the hair care, the brands of "maison" and light fragrances in the fragrance markets have all showed favorable sales in the respective markets. Also, odor-caring haircare products and anti-aging skincare products targeting middle-aged men sold well in the men's cosmetic market.
