What is the Japanese/Western-Style Confectioneries and Sweets Market?

The Japanese/Western-style confectioneries and sweets market in this research indicates the market consisted of the following four categories: 1) Japanese-style confectioneries/sweets that are fresh, soft (semi-baked), dry, or fully-baked; 2) Western-style confectioneries/sweets that are fresh, semi-baked, or fully-baked; 3) Desserts including yogurt, pudding, jelly, and other desserts packaged in cups; and 4) Ice creams including various types of ice creams, flavored ice, and iced confectioneries. The market size is calculated based on the shipment values at manufacturers.

◆ Key Findings

■ Whereas FY2015 Japanese/Western-Style Confectioneries and Sweets Market Attained 2,221.6 Billion Yen, Up by 3.9% on Y-o-Y Basis, FY2016 Projected to Achieve 2,265.5 Billion Yen, Up by 2.0%

Size of the Japanese/Western-style confectioneries and sweets market in FY2015 grew by 3.9% from the previous fiscal year to achieve 2,221.6 billion yen, based on the shipment value at manufacturers. The entire market has been boosted by yogurt and ice cream, together with contribution by both Japanese and Western-style confectioneries. Although the market environment seems to be severe in FY2016, the favorable sales of desserts and the stable sales at CVS are likely to raise the market by 2.0% from the previous fiscal year.

■ Component Ratio of General Channels Increases

With regard to the component ratio of the Japanese/Western-style confectioneries and sweets market by channel in FY2015, mass merchandisers/supermarkets occupied 36.1%, followed by convenience stores (CVS) accounting for 23.2%, and department stores 18.2%. As the entire market has been expanding, all the channels except for specialty stores/street-front stores have grown. Especially, the general channels, including mass merchandisers, super markets, and CVS, has expanded its market share.

■ The Japanese Confectioneries and Sweets Expanded for First Time in 7 Years

While the tendency of the markets of yogurt and ice cream leading the market has not changed for the past several years, the market of Japanese-style confectioneries, which had been on the decline since FY2009, showed a slight increase for the first time in seven years, boosted by expansion of the Japanese confectioneries retail market developed at supermarkets and CVS, where consumers daily buy Japanese confectioneries and sweets.
